Foreword

Firstly, I'd like to welcome you all personally to Birmingham Law School, and congratulate you on your successes that have lead you here. My name is Harriet Smith, and I am the Chairperson of the Holdsworth club this year. I am looking forward to meeting you all throughout the year!

The Holdsworth Club, starting in 1927, has a rich history as a law society and a prestigious reputation. We are delighted this year to have Supreme Court Judge Lady Hale as our president. Although our roots are steeped in history, we as a society have a focus on the future, and are committed to diversity and inclusivity. Our primary aim is to support you through every step of your journey here, both academically and socially, no matter your background. Alongside hosting a multitude of social events, we have strong relationships with many of the UK's leading employers. As a member of the Holdsworth Club, you will have the opportunity to get involved in a wealth of activities, trips, sports, careers sessions and social events. My personal highlight is the Annual Law Ball, which is always a spectacular evening. Join Holdsworth and become a life-long member of a society that truly will enhance your time at law school.

Harriet Smith

Miss Harriet Smith
Chair 2018-19

On behalf of The Holdsworth Club and our members, I would like to welcome you to the University of Birmingham. My name is Ed Rutter and I will be your Vice Chair for the 2018-19 academic year.

Whether you are a domestic or international student, Holdsworth has a place for you. Following an outstanding year last year which included the biggest 'Law Annual Welcome Drink's yet, our first text book exchange, our pilot student tutoring scheme, our first year with our own welfare and diversity officer and an amazing law ball. This is cumulated in winning the "Best at Student Engagement" Award at the Student Law Society Awards sponsored by LawCareers.net. This year we have to strive to replicate the achievements of last year and hope that everyone has the opportunity to get involved with Holdsworth whether it be through the tutoring scheme, career events, sports or socials.

The Holdsworth Club is one of the oldest and most prestigious Law Societies in the UK and we look forward to you joining us and allowing us to help better your experience at the University of Birmingham. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Ed Rutter

The Holdsworth Club

The Holdsworth Club was founded in 1927 by Sir William Holdsworth, who remained the Club's President until 1944. Ever since, Holdsworth has run as a society for the students, by the students. The committee consists of students, acting in the interests of its student members. Holdsworth is entering its 91st year as a society, making it one of the longest run student law societies in the UK. Every year, Holdsworth invites a Club President to represent the club, and give a Presidential speech. Last year, Lady Justice Elizabeth Gloster of the Court of Appeal served as Club President. Previously, the great Lord Denning, former UK Supreme Court President Lord Neuberger, and other prominent legal figures in the UK have all served as Holdsworth Club President. Join us this year to be a part of the Holdsworth Club's great history. This year our President is Lady Hale, the current President of the Supreme Court, who will be giving her presidential address on the evening of the 29th November.

Holdsworth, as a diverse and inclusive club, provides you with a variety of career opportunities to enhance your prospects as you enter a legal career, whether it is as a solicitor or barrister, if that is what you decide to do. We focus this through alumni support and strong relationships with supporting sponsors. This year, Holdsworth is running something that has never been done in the past. The Club is setting up its own student-run tutoring/mentoring scheme which will be exclusive to members. This special scheme gives members another avenue by which to succeed on throughout their degree.

Holdsworth also provides both social and extracurricular activity opportunities for our members, including many exclusive events such as our Careers Week and our Christmas Trip abroad, which has been to Budapest and Berlin in recent years. The one-off £55 membership fee ensures lifetime membership which will allow you entry to our exclusive events as well as getting many discounts. This includes £10 off law ball tickets, which means going to a few law balls will in and of itself cover the initial cost of membership. The Holdsworth Club also runs several sports teams which members can join for free.

Aims and Objectives

Inclusion

The Holdsworth Club aims to include and benefit every student member by offering them access to a myriad of opportunities that include but are not limited to career, social and sporting events. We offer an inclusive, diverse and supportive atmosphere that is open to all students irrespective of their gender, ethnicity, religious or sexual identity.

Teamwork

The Holdsworth Executive committee and our volunteers work seamlessly to bring the best opportunities to the Holdsworth Club. We work with and listen to our sponsors and student members from across the country to ensure that every event fulfills and enhances our members' prospects. The Holdsworth Club encourages not only teamwork within the Executive but amongst our members.

Development

The Holdsworth Club, through the provision of tailored activities and events, seeks to develop our members holistically to make them well rounded and progressive individuals. The law and non-law based events exposes our members to greater world knowledge and opportunities that enhances and broadens their horizons.

Results

Our inclusive and diverse environment supplemented by our teamwork and development initiatives seek to progressively provide and promote opportunities that allow leading organisations to recognise that our members are intellectually well-rounded, respectful and driven.

Welfare and Diversity

At the Holdsworth Club we take student welfare and diversity very seriously. We are an inclusive and diverse Club that caters to the needs of all individuals from varying backgrounds. Holdsworth has a Welfare & Diversity Officer to ensure that all events are inclusive and diverse.

We understand that Law School, at first, may seem daunting and overwhelming. The welfare of all members of the Law School is extremely important to the Holdsworth Club and the position of Welfare and Diversity is key to this.

Your first port of call for any issue can be your Personal Tutor. Their role is both academic and also to point you in the right direction if you are struggling with any personal issues. It is also possible for you to talk with the Law School's welfare tutors:

Ms. Libby Proctor

law.welfare@contacts.bham.ac.uk

Office drop-in hours TBC

You're also able to go speak directly with wellbeing services which is located in Aston Webb. The Guild of Students is also able to offer you support anything which may be troubling you. If you have a diagnosed mental health condition, then you're recommended to the support staff where a safe and relaxed environment will be provided. Please contact the Mental Health Advisory Service for further info.

Email: mentalhealth@contacts.bham.ac.uk

Tel: 0121 414 5130

For those of you who have a disability (both sensory and or physical) you're recommended to contact the Disability Services on campus.

A Welcome to First Years

First Years, congratulations on your acceptance to the University of Birmingham! My name is Ellen Abrahall and I will be your 2018-19 First Year Holdsworth Representative. The Holdsworth Club and I, as your First Year Representative, would like to help ease your transition into university life at such an exciting, yet slightly nerve-wracking time. We hope to welcome you into the study of Law at Birmingham, with a mixture of social events and academic support. We will also provide you with a variety of career opportunities to enhance your prospects should you wish to enter a legal career, whether it's as a solicitor or barrister, or any other career path. We hope to focus on this through alumni support and strong relationships with our sponsors. As the First Year Representative, my role is to help incoming students with any issues they may have, however big or small. If I cannot help, then I will point you in the direction of someone who can. I am always here to have a chat with anyone about Law or anything else you may have concerns about. Please do not hesitate to talk to me, whether it is during my office hours, around campus, or through Facebook.

A Welcome to Graduate Students

LLB for Grads and LLMs, and other LLB students alike, it is my pleasure to welcome you to the University of Birmingham and the Holdsworth Club. My name is Marco Gaspar and I am the 2018-19 Holdsworth Postgraduate Representative. Hopefully we have convinced you about the multitude of benefits from joining Holdsworth. As all of you have already attained a degree elsewhere, you're probably well-versed with the process already. Whether you excelled in the student community, or preferred to concentrate solely on the academic aspect, or struck a balance between the both, all of you have unique experiences to share. The Holdsworth Club recognises this diversity, and together we add to the storied history of Holdsworth. Your Holdsworth membership of £45 will enhance an already rewarding experience from studying here in Birmingham.

My main role is to serve as the bridge between Holdsworth LLB for Grads and LLMs with the rest of Holdsworth. However, I am also a point of contact for all LLB students to discuss academics, career advice, and general administrative matters such as housing and extracurriculars. Please feel free to talk to me about anything else, so long as it makes your LLB experience as smooth, successful, and enjoyable as possible. I look forward to meeting you all soon.

Events

Holdsworth membership provides access and discounts to exclusive catered and non-catered events. These events are inclusive, diverse and run throughout the year. They range from legal networking and informal member socials to competitions and formals. Prices of events will vary but we aim to accommodate everyone. If you would like to participate in our events and stay up-to-date, we recommend that you check out our Google calendar on the Holdsworth website and follow our social media outlets:

Informal Socials

Welcome Drinks and Social Mixer

A first for this year, we'll be hosting socials at the Vale, Selly Oak and in other locations as a means for you to meet your classmates before committing to the more involved events. These events are intended to be inclusive, so whether you drink or not, it will be a fun evening.

LAWD

The 'Law Annual Welcome Drinks' is one of the highlights of the social calendar, and is a great way to kick off the year with classmates. LAWD is a bar crawl along Broad Street between pubs and clubs – sometimes there is a bouncy castle too – which is a fantastic way to meet classmates in your year and those above you, whilst enjoying affordable drinks and drinking games along the way.

Events

Christmas Trip

Budapest - 2016 Trip

Every year, Holdsworth organises a trip at the beginning of the Christmas break, with past destinations including Berlin and Budapest. This is a great way to meet new people and get away from the wear and tear of reading law. This year we're planning something a bit different. Details will be provided in due course.

Law v Medics

It won't be long before you start pronouncing this event as 'Law and Medics', but either way, this is a fierce drinking competition between the two best faculties on campus (although we all know who comes first). Look forward to meeting a few future doctors, and proving to them and the city why we are the best bunch.

Formal Socials

Law Ball

The undisputed highlight of the year. You'll want to start saving for this now. As a formal event on the social calendar, it costs a little more than all the other events we organise, other than the Christmas Trip. That's not to say it isn't good value however, and the price has decreased year-on-year. Think free wine, meal, party, reception and all at a fantastic venue.

Holdsworth Committee - 2016-17

Graduating and Graduates Meal

Birmingham, as the country's second city, contains a wealth of venues that are ideally suited to hosting dinner events. For cuisine, Brindleyplace offers a range of quality restaurants situated along the Grand Canal that runs through the city. The Mailbox, likewise, serves as a stylish venue offering its own choice of restaurants. Whilst Malmaison in the Mailbox is a popular hotel in which to hold an evening reception off-campus, the city has many other venues with a variety of settings. Typically, the Holdsworth Club hosts a meal for graduates (LLM & Graduate Law students) as well as one for 3rd year graduating students at the end of every year. Please note that the event is sponsorship dependent.

Pre-Law Fair Networking Event

This event is an opportunity for students to focus their research on firms prior to the Law Fair. As such we are hoping that an early casual networking social will allow students to get a head start on their applications and develop more specific and directed questions when the law fair takes place. Holdsworth believes that this opportunity will help members enhance the quality of their applications as they will be more informed and prepared.

Careers Week

The Holdsworth Club plans to dedicate an entire week (Monday – Friday) within either the first or second term to career events. This week will be jammed packed with advice panels comprised of older students, graduates, workshops and presentations as well as individual firm days. Holdsworth plans for these events to be hosted on the University of Birmingham's campus to optimize exclusivity and accessibility. This is an opportunity for students to learn about a variety of professions. Each day of the Careers Week will include an event sponsored by an organisation. The final day is a Networking Extravaganza that is a fully catered social networking night that includes a photographer and a prize for the most dedicated student.

Motivational Women in Law

In line with our diversity initiative this year we will be hosting a Motivational Women in Law night that will host a mix of motivational solicitors, barristers, justices and professors who have found much success within the legal profession. This event would be open to all students within the school of law as we wish to encourage participation. Holdsworth members have an opportunity to learn about the varying successes and obstacles that similar individuals faced throughout their career. We hope this event will be very inspiring and will help to facilitate female participation in the profession.

Events

Diversity Evening

In line with our diversity initiatives this year, the Holdsworth Club would like to host an evening specifically catered to LGTBQ, BAME and disabled students which will be open to all other students who are interested as well. We want to help educate members so they can learn more about what opportunities, diverse and inclusive initiatives firms and chambers take to ensure equality as well as a safe working environment. The event will either take place on campus or at a specified place within the City Centre.

Pop-Up Events

Throughout the year, in collaboration with our sponsors, we host a myriad of dinners, presentations and social networking events. These events are scheduled in advance. Holdsworth members are encouraged to keep an eye on Holdsworth calendar throughout the year to ensure they do not miss out on any opportunities.

Bar Career Events

In addition, to many other careers events, Holdsworth will also be running a number of events specific to a career at the Bar. The aim of these events will be to give you an insight into what it really means to be a Barrister and to provide you with opportunities that make this career as accessible and achievable as possible.

These will include informative talks, skills sessions and tours or open days at the Inns of Court in London. There will also be opportunities for a small number of students to attend formal dining events at the Inns. If you have any other suggestions or requests for events you would like to see, please get in contact and I will do my best to arrange these for you.

Please join our Facebook group: The Bar @ The Holdsworth Club: Birmingham University 2018-2019. This is where I will update you with the details of upcoming events and opportunities and will share useful information and resources.

If you have any queries, please do not hesitate to contact me on: holdsworthbarristerrep@gmail.com

Holdsworth Competitions

During the academic period, Holdsworth hosts many member-run competitions. These competitions are open to members only. At the end of the competition a prize is given.

Debating

Competitive debating allows members to participate in internal and external academic events across the country. Candidates are presented with an idea and/or policy where they try to persuade the audience and/or panel that their argument has the most merit. Their position is heard through tactful knowledge and persuasive oral skills.

Mooting

Mooting plays an integral part of our Club. We work alongside CEPLER and other sponsor organisations. Moots will simulate a court hearing where participants analyse a full legal problem, research the relevant law, and apply their knowledge through a written oral submission. The moot topic is based on an unsettled area of law that draws academic and practitioner debate.

Moot court setting

Commercial Awareness

A “commercially aware” person is an individual who understands and stays up to date with current economic, political and commercial global affairs. As this skill is imperative for any individual entering the working sector, we aim to ensure, through competition, that students are adequately prepared for their interviews and the work force. The rules and schedules of these events are subject to change. The availability of these competitions are resource dependent.

Sport

Holdsworth sport is an integral part of our society and one which, in recent years, has seen great success. With participation in sports including football, rugby and netball, Holdsworth sport gives society members the opportunity to partake in these activities at both a friendly and competitive level. Intramural leagues against other societies and inter-university competitions against other law schools, allows the Holdsworth Club to exhibit its impressive sporting capabilities on a variety of platforms. This has certainly been the case over previous seasons with various cup wins and impressive competition performances from all Holdsworth sporting teams. This year we look to continue this success, increase sporting participation amongst Holdsworth members and also ensure kit sponsorship from leading law firms to reaffirm Holdsworth's professional image. As well as this, for the first time, we are looking to establish a mixed hockey team to play once or twice a week! If you have any questions please do not hesitate to contact Jonathan Ford, our Sports Officer.

Modules Explained

Based on the straight 3-year LLB program – mixed LLBs and LLB for Graduates study Law of Torts in First Year*

In your first year, you will study five law-based modules plus one non-law module called Widening Horizons Modules (WHM), which you will choose during Freshers' week. This section gives a brief breakdown of the law-based modules, what they consist of, and advice to Freshers.

Lecture Room setting

Legal Skills and Methods (LSAM)

This Module is especially helpful for those who have not previously studied law. The course is completed over one semester. Through LSAM, skills are developed that will aid you in all aspects of your degree. Utilise all the resources provided by LSAM to ensure you learn these foundational skills as early as possible. If taken for granted, skills such as referencing, if not used properly, will lose you marks in essays. The overall grade for LSAM is distributed accordingly: 50% essay and 50% multiple-choice exam.

Modules Explained

Public Law

Public Law is focused on the UK's legal and political institutions and the devolution. This includes studying the devolution and allocation of the power within the State (Executive, Legislative and the Judiciary) and the legal power over public authorities (Judicial Review). Keep up with current affairs by watching the news; alternatively, you can follow news pages or newspapers on social media and download a news app.

Signing of the Magna Carta

Criminal Law and Defences

...actus non fit reus nisi mens sit rea

Criminal Law is often the most popular and most memorable module as it covers areas of the law which most people think of when they think “law”, and is an area of law which yields many debates amongst students, academics, and practicing lawyers. You’ll be learning about actus reus (the act), mens rea (the mental element), homicide, offences against the person, sexual offences, theft, complicity, inchoate offences, defences.

Law of Contract

This module covers the foundations of Contract Law and proves applicable to many real life contractual situations. There has been reform in areas of Contract Law and it is interesting to see the impact of these and the impact of common law on the way contracts are written and performed in real life. This module goes through creation of a contract, problems in agreement process, content of the agreement, performing or altering the agreement, and what happens when things go wrong in contractual formation.

Modules Explained

Law in Action

This module allows you to use the essay writing and research skills you will have acquired during your time at University of Birmingham Law School and channel it into a 4000-word project. This will either be based on Public, Criminal or Contract Law (of which you will have the option). Law in Action starts in semester 2, in place of LSAM. For LLB for Graduates, LSAM is completed in semester 1, and Law in Action in semester 2.

Widening Horizons Modules (WHM)

It's difficult to give advice for WHM because it will be different for everyone. It is highly recommended to visit the Widening Horizons fair during Freshers' week and look for a subject that will really interest you. Ask for the subjects covered in the module and the type of examination it will be. It won't be nice to be surprised by the type of exam once it's too late to change.

Textbooks

You've made it to law school. Now you'll need all the books to get you through. Everybody has their own way of studying, so you might not necessarily need all of them. In your first few lectures, you will be told what textbooks you need. You can buy these textbooks new online or from John Smith's Bookstore on campus (under Barclays), who offer bundle prices. However, there are outlets from which you can buy second-hand textbooks from students in the year above you. There are several ways you can contact students to get second-hand books, but we recommend the following:

1. The Holdsworth Club will be hosting a Textbook Sale at the beginning of the year, details to be confirmed.
2. A Facebook page called "University of Birmingham Law School – Textbook Exchange"

Resources to Utilise

Legal Skills Academic Support (LSAS)

LSAS is a run by the Law School designed to give you support in areas you may be struggling with or need advice on. This includes organised workshops and drop-in sessions running all year. Please use LSAS it can be extremely helpful. You can use LSAS to discuss formative assignments, help with understanding cases, how to use feedback, exam preparation, revision techniques, and more. More information can be found on the Academic Support section in the Law School Canvas Hub tab on your Canvas page.

Personal Tutors

You will meet with your personal tutors for “Progress and Transition Review meetings” but your personal tutor is also there if you are having any problems with your studies or wellbeing, so don’t be afraid to approach them with questions. They are happy to discuss academics, provide career advice, and anything else that will improve or enhance your experience at the University.

Office Hours

Office hours are a few hours set aside per week where lecturers are available in their offices for you to drop by and ask any questions you may have. Office hours are different for every Lecturer and can change between Semesters. However, they’re easily found in the Key Information section in the Law School Canvas Hub on Canvas.

CEPLER (Centre for Professional Legal Education and Research)

CEPLER gives opportunities to increase experiences of law through: mooting, debating, Pro Bono, work experience etc. They provide helpful resources to guide you into the Legal industry. So keep an eye out for CEPLER announcements in the Newsletter or Canvas.

New Student Tutoring Scheme

Exclusive to the Holdsworth Club

Holdsworth's Student Tutoring Scheme is entering its second year after a successful pilot in 2017/2018. This is a free tutoring scheme run by 2nd and 3rd year students. Sessions will take place weekly, going over what lecturers have taught the previous week in all the core modules of the first and second year programme. If you have been to a lecture but still cannot fully understand the content, these sessions will seek to improve your understanding and serve as a forum for students who have questions. Keep in mind that student tutors had the same lecturers and lectures as most of you will have, and will probably understand any concerns or problems you may be having in your modules. Times and places will be announced in the Law School Newsletter and Holdsworth Social Media outlets. If you have any additional queries, do not hesitate to contact Matthew Martin, our Academic Director who has overall responsibility for the scheme.

HOLDSWORTH TUTORING SCHEME

Revision Advice

Time Management

Easter holidays fly by and exams will be here before you know it, so plan when you're going to revise and how long for before the holidays start and stick to it.

Revision Lectures

Revision lectures can be great, so definitely go to them. Lecturers tend to give you a summary lecture of each topic they've covered and may indicate what is likely to be in the exam. However, it is advised you don't leave revising for exams until these lectures happen, as they are usually in Semester 3 and don't give you much time to go over everything afterwards. The earlier you start revision, the easier you will make it for yourself.

Revision Guides

Revision booklets such as Nutcases or Law Express are good for supplementary purposes, but be wary they may not follow the same methods as lecturers, and may target different aspects of law not covered in class, so don't rely too heavily on them.

Concise Notes

Try and keep your notes organised throughout your year, this will help you immensely when it comes down to revision. It doesn't take long to categorise your notes throughout the year but will take you quite a while if you wait until Easter to sort them all.

Practice Papers

You may not feel inclined to do past papers for first year revision, but not only are they a good revision method but they also show you what your exam paper will look like, so you'll have a bit of an idea of what to expect.
